This is our reason for being, and we are at your disposal! Description The ASBHQ is concerned with playing a vital role with affected people and their families. Whether after the announcement of the diagnosis of spina bifida, during pregnancy, or when an adult with spina bifida wonders about As his case evolves, the ASBHQ becomes an important resource. We understand the anxiety, confusion and worry experienced by those affected and their families. We work with heart in order to provide them with all the information available so that they can make the choices that are required in their individual case. Here is a general overview of the ASBHQ mandate. Support and encourage research to determine the causes of spina bifida, enable improvement of treatments and prevention techniques. Disseminate information about spina bifida and to hydrocephalus in his publication Le Spinnaker. Organize information sessions and training, ensure the production of documentation, promotional tours and awareness across Quebec. See to the development of services that meet the needs of people with spina bifida and their families. Provide a consultation and references. Raise awareness among the population of Quebec about spina bifida and prevention measures. Assume a role of leadership and cohesion with regional associations to implement common ideas and experiences across Quebec. Prepare and monitor the dissemination of the advertising for the various media, so that the ASBHQ message is standardized and in accordance with policies already established. Play a political role with government authorities and other decision-making powers, for any questions concerning the integration of people with impairment, particularly people with spina bifida and hydrocephalus. Bring a support for regional associations by offering them expertise and planning tools, organization, promotion, etc. The ASBHQ attaches major importance to consultation and partnership with other organizations in the community, public, or parapublic sectors, in order to better develop services that will meet the needs of its members. His partners or life members are the Constance-Lethbridge Rehabilitation Center (CRCL), the Physical Impairment Rehabilitation Institute of Quebec (IRDPQ), the Rehabilitation Center Chaudière-Appalaches (CRDP-CA) and the Shriners Hospital for Children.  * help to better understand health problems of mothers and children and develop appropriate solutions; * provide the best care; * share knowledge and know-how with others; * promote health; * evaluate and improve the means of intervention in place. Description One center dedicated exclusively to children, adolescents and mothers Creation, for Quebec, a high-level university hospital center dedicated exclusively to children, adolescents and mothers, constitutes a unique and advantageous approach. This formula allows true integrated care for the child, adolescent and mother, and this, from conception to birth, to childhood and, if necessary, until adolescence and the threshold of adulthood, including rehabilitation care. This continuity of action makes it possible to intervene early from pregnancy, through prevention, screening, intervention activities therapeutic, and to continue the action with the newborn, his mother and often his family. This concept of services for children, adolescents and mothers goes beyond care. She brings to prevent, promote and defend conditions that impact development and the health of mothers, children and adolescents. This overall responsibility with regard to children, adolescents and mothers, integrated into research and teaching missions, therefore takes on unique dimensions in terms of its impact on the health of our patients. A role of leading role in rehabilitation The exercise of a leading role in rehabilitation sets CHU Sainte-Justine apart from other university hospitals. With the Marie Enfant Rehabilitation Center (CRME), the only pediatric rehabilitation center in Quebec, the CHU assumes this role to give a very particular extension to our vocation, in a continuum of care and services, enriched by a university-caliber rehabilitation mission.

networks Mission The Clinic aims to mission to offer low-income people with mental health or mental health problems psychological suffering, psychoanalysis and psychotherapy services.

Description Welcoming its first patients in the fall of 2007, the CSPM is a social clinic both in its mission with patients as well as in the commitment of the people who work there. She leans, indeed, on the social contribution of psychoanalysts concerned by the fact that too much many people struggling with mental health problems cannot, due to lack of sufficient income, benefit from the psychotherapeutic help required in their case. TO WHOM ARE WE HELPING? Every year, nearly a hundred people contact our organism. The people we help have mental health or mental health problems. psychological suffering. They also have significant socio-economic difficulties.

These difficulties constitute as much consequences as risk factors for the appearance or worsening of mental health problems. Besides the fact that all are below the threshold of weak income, the portrait of the people we help is heterogeneous. A large number of these people are young people who have dropped out or are at risk of dropping out, often psychologically incapable of investing in projects. There are also these young people who, in addition of their serious mental health problems, find themselves in a situation of marginality and very great poverty. Others are students questioning themselves, their relational and professional choices, on the meaning of their life.

Others are parents faced with significant personal and professional difficulties which heavily affect their parenting skills. Others are 1st or 2nd generation immigrants struggling with socio-economic integration difficulties. The spectrum of our clientele extends from the very young twenties to sixties, but nearly 75% of people who request health care CSPM are aged 18 to 35.

Networks social Mission Project 10 works to promote the personal, social, sexual and mental well-being of lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, two-spirit, intersex and other youth and adults questions aged between 14 and 25. Description INDIVIDUAL MEETING & SUPPORT Project 10 offers individual intervention sessions for young people and/or their families to discuss topics related to sexual orientation and/or gender identity. In addition of these individual meetings, we also offer support services for users of Project 10. In the past, we have accompanied people to appointments medical services, including HIV testing, at social assistance offices, interviews for housing cooperatives, other community organizations, centers accommodation, as well as appearances at court. GROUP (DROP-IN) Project 10 has a group regular bilingual on Thursday evening for young people aged 14 to 25 and Tuesday evening for teenagers (14 to 17). The group is open and semi-structured, led by employees and interns. The content of the group is largely decided by young people. You are in charge of the activities! Once a month, a mix of ideas is carried out to decide on the schedule for the next month. Activities favorites of the group included our spring barbecue and our very special P10 idol party! DEFENSE OF RIGHTS Project 10 workers and interns campaign for several participants of Project 10, so that they can achieve their goals, whether it is finding a affordable apartment, find a job, change the name and gender designated to them on the official identity papers, access to sex reassignment surgeries, obtain status of refugee, stay out of prison, complete complaint documents for experienced discrimination, and even more. KIOSKS AND WORKSHOPS We offer information workshops for young people, teachers and social workers. We offer a workshop adapted to the needs of people concerned, but we try to concentrate on activities which aim to share information and resources, undo prejudices and invite discussion and to questions about sexual orientation and gender identity. We also have kiosks in schools and in community events to increase our visibility and share information. To obtain a workshop or kiosk, call the helpline (514 989 4585) or send a message to questions@p10.qc.ca TRANS HEALTH At Projet 10, we work hard to find doctors and other health professionals who are qualified and knowledgeable to work with trans youth in an open and non-judgmental way. To this end, we maintain a database of physicians, therapists, etc. for Trans Health. In this way, we can refer our participants to these health specialists. Recently, the work team of Project 10 has been an active member of a Trans Health Network to improve access for trans people to health services.

Monday to Friday Mission La Canadian Psychoanalytic Society is committed to providing comprehensive training in psychoanalysis and to provide intensive psychotherapy services to promote personal development and resolution of unsatisfactory life patterns. Support individuals in a process of deep transformation, exploring personal and interpersonal experiences to improve mental health and well-being. Description The Canadian Psychoanalytic Society (SCP)! Since 1957, the SCP has offered psychoanalysis services in Canada. As an institute dynamic and progressive, we are committed to providing psychoanalytic training comprehensive for mental health professionals of all levels. Psychoanalysis in Canada We practice an intensive form of psychotherapy that promotes personal development and resolving unsatisfactory or painful life patterns. Our members work closely collaboration with individuals to improve their mental health by examining meticulously personal and interpersonal experiences, the interaction between the past and the present, the connection between body and mind, and the dynamic between fantasy and reality. Process psychoanalytic The process requires the establishment of a relationship of trust with the analyst, in complete confidentiality. Sessions generally take place 3 to 4 times a week, thus favoring the emergence of the analysand's dilemmas and traumas. Private listening of the analyst allows us to explore the experience of the analysand through his emotional reactions, his thoughts, memories, fantasies, dreams, images and bodily sensations. Training and members Our members are psychoanalysts, members of the Association international psychoanalytic (API). We offer the best training in psychoanalysis in the Canada, recognized for its rigor by the IPA. CPS Ottawa
